

Disability Inclusive Sexual & Reproductive Health

Article 25(a) of the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD)

The CRPD declares that persons with disabilities should have the same range, quality and standard of free or affordable health care and programs as provided to other persons, including in the area of Sexual and Reproductive Health (SRH) and population-based public health programs.

What we do

In line with the CRPD and the SDGs, Humanity & Inclusion promotes Sexual Reproductive Health and Rights (SRHR) of people with disabilities and vulnerable populations in development and fragile settings.

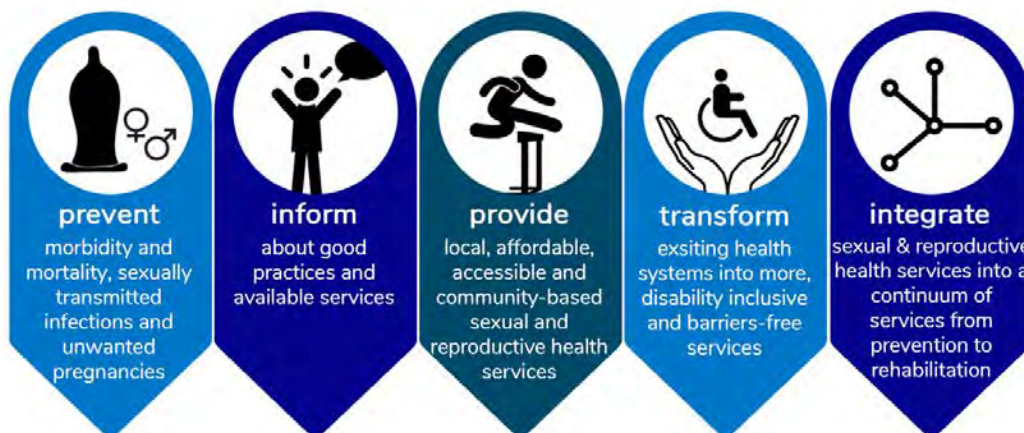

Goal 3. Target 3.7

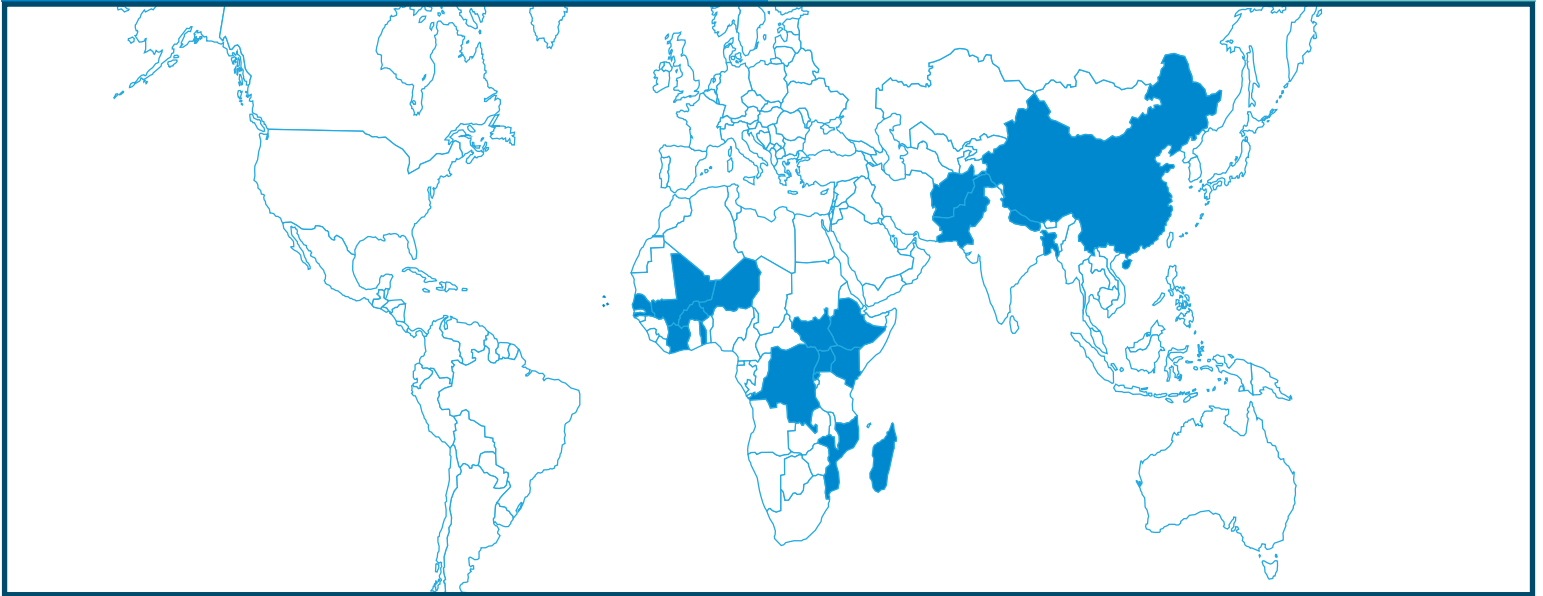

By 2030, ensure universal access to sexual and reproductive health-care services, including for family planning, information and education, and the integration of reproductive health into national strategies and programs.

Goal 5. Target 5.6

Ensure universal access to sexual and reproductive health and reproductive rights as agreed in accordance with the Programme of Action of the International Conference on Population and Development and the Beijing Platform for Action and the outcome documents of their review conferences.

Humanity & Inclusion's interventions are built on five major pillars:

Humanity & Inclusion's approach

- Support governments to develop and implement policies and plans that meet the SRH needs of people with disabilities and vulnerable populations
- Build the capacity of health care professionals to provide quality and accessible SRH information and services
- Address barriers and transform believes preventing people with disabilities from accessing SRH information and services
- Provide technical support to international and local NGOs as well as organizations of persons with disabilities on promoting SRHR for all
